

OHSAS 18001:2007 RABQSA Lead Auditor (In conjunction with CSA Education and Training)

Course Description:

This is an intensive, advanced level course, geared towards those who are, or will be, involved in third party (registration), second party (supplier), or first party (internal) Occupational Health and Safety System audits.

This course includes a brief overview of OHSAS 18001, and will give participants an appreciation of the importance of the hazard identification, risk assessment and risk control processes, and the legal and regulatory requirements, which are at the core of an effective OH&S management system.

OH&S audit methodology is covered by way of a series of interactive exercises and examples which will require participants to work in groups on every stage of the audit process, from defining the audit objectives, roles and responsibilities, planning and preparing the audit, conducting and reporting the audit, and finally following up on any corrective actions.

The course is designed to provide potential auditors of Occupational Health and Safety Management Systems with the knowledge, skills, principles and practices required for auditing OH&S management systems.

Who Should Attend:

Individuals who have an occupational health and safety background, an understanding of OH&S practices and management principles, and who wish to extend this knowledge to cover the concepts relating to the auditing and assessment of an organization's Occupational Health & Safety Management System.

Prerequisite:

"Understanding OHSAS 18001", "OHSAS 18001 Essentials" course or equivalent. In addition, it is recommended that participants to this course have an occupational health and safety background, and an understanding of relevant OH&S principles and practices.
